WILSON CONFERS WITH BERNSTORFF

Emphasizes Intense Feeling of Americans Over Violation of Rights

NO CHANGE IN PLAN

Ambassador Believes His Report Will Pave Way to Better Understanding Between Governments

OFFICIALS LEARN FEW DETAILS

WASHINGTON, June 2—President Wilson emphasized in an informal talk with Count VonBernstorff, the German ambassador today, the intense feeling of the American people over the sinking of the Lusitania and othr violations of American rights on the high seas and impressed upon him that the United States must insist on an adherence by Germany to the accepted principles of international law as they affect neutrals.

No Change in Plan.

No announcements were made after the conference which had been arranged at the ambassador's request, but it was stated authoritatively that there would be no change in the plan of the president and his cabinet to send in response to the German reply to the last American note an inquiry to ascertain definitely whether the imperial government will abide by international law or follow its own rules of maritime warfare. The note which is being written by President Wilson will be dspatched before the nd of the week.

In the twenty minute conversation the president of the United States and the personal representative of Emperor William exchanged views on the delicate situation which has arisen in the relations between the two countries. Their meeting was cordial, their conversation friendly and both discussed fundamentals and not details. Count VonBernstorff later told friends that the interview had been satisfactory and that the president had spoken clearly and frankly.

Ambassador Very Hopeful.

The ambassador felt very hopeful when he returned to the embassy. He believed the report which he prepared for transmission to Berlin would enlighten the German foreign office on the true American opinion and pave the end to better understanding. In official and diplomatic quarters opinion was divided as to the effect of the conference. Some thought it would be beneficial and bring from Germany a conciliatory reply to the next American communication. Others were hopeful when President Wilson's note of May 13th was dispatched and that he recommended several methods to the German foreign office of meeting the American position satisfactorily. It is an open secret in diplomatic quarters, however, that the ambassador's suggestions were not followed then and speculation was widespread as to what influence his communication of today—expressing as it did the viewpoint of the president himself—might have on his government. In view of the difficulties which the embassy has experienced in communicating with Berlin on account of the cutting of cables, it is understood the president granted a request of the ambassador that the United States assist him in transmitting his messages concerning the delicate situation that has arisen. The ambassador's report of his talk with the president will be sent in code through the state department and will be delivered by Ambassador Gerard. The conference at the white house was the outstanding development of the day in the international situation.

Officials Learn Few Details.

Officials and diplomats were keenly interested in what took place but they learned few details.

The president is understood to have explained the American government's position and to have reiterated that it was based on legality. It is believed the ambassador was told that Germany must conduct its submarine warfare in accordance with the dictates of humanity in a way that would not endanger the lives and property of neutrals and there would be no objection to the use of the underwater craft as a commerce destroyer. The exercise of the right of visit and search however, the president is said to have explained, would be insisted upon when submarines encounter unarmed merchantmen or vessels which do not resist capture.

In some well informed quarters the conference was discussed as likely to lead to results with respect to the general European situation. While the president, it is believed, in adherence to his expressed policy would not talk of the relations of this country with Great Britain to the German ambassador the possibility that a return to international law by all the belligerents might eventually be accomplished by the efforts of the United States and thus pave the way for the eventual restoration of peace in Europe was a suggestion widely current.

Optimism is Apparent.

In German quarters optimism was apparent. The view was expressed that the German reply did not purport to be a full answer to the American demands and that if the United States in its next note stated that official investigation showed that the Lusiania carried no guns it would not be surprising if this would be accepted by the German government as a fact, furnishing the basis for the giving of reparation. The four affidavits prsented to the state department by the German embassy alleging that guns were carried by the Lusitania is believed to be the evidence to which the German movement referred in its last note. Should it develop that the foreign office had been misinformed German diplomatists said an acknowledgment of the mistake would not be withheld. These affidavits were not made public by either the embassy or the state department but the character of the individuals who made them and their testimony is being made the subject of a quiet investigation. Those officials who had seen the statements, however, were confident that they could not be accepted as disproving the testimony given by inspectors whose duty it was to search for guns.

LARGE HOLE IN SHELL OF F-4 STOPS FURTHER SALVAGING

Huge Cylinders Will be Lashed to Sides of Craft and Then Pumped Out, Furnishing Great Lifting Power.

Honolulu, June 2.—After being raised from a depth of more than 300 feet to within 24 fet of the surface, further salvaging of the wrecked submarine F-4 had to be suspended today on account of a large hole in the shell and danger of the hulk breaking in two. A new method of lifting is to be tried and a month's delay is expected.

Until last week the work had progressed so satisfactorily that it was believed that the bringing of the craft to the surface was only a matter of hours. The divers who had established a new world's record for depth had entered the interior of the vessel and it was expected that the tragic story of the F-4 soon would be revealed and the bodies of the crew taken from their undersea casket.

Naval constructor Julius A. Furer will sail on the Sierra for San Francisco Saturday to supervise the construction of six huge cylinders at the Mare Island navy yard which will be submerged along side the F-4, lashed to its sides and then pumped out, furnishing great lifting power. It is hoped that the F-4 can thus be brought safely to the surface.

OPEN FORTY-NINTH ENCAMPMENT OF ILLINOIS G.A.R. AT MOLINE

Gov. Dunne and His Staff are Guests of Honor—Choose Decatur for the Meeting Place Next Year.

Moline, Ill., June 2.—The forty ninth encampment of the Illinois G. A. R., was formally opened this afternoon. The session was devoted to the presentation of the report of the credentials committee and the receipt of resolutions.

Governor Dunne and his staff were guests of honor at the encampment.

This afternoon they visited the Rock Island Arsenal and later reviewed the parade of 1,000 veterans.

The governor was the chief speaker at the camp fires this evening. The Moline veterans have made every preparation to care for the visitors. Detectives from Chicago are aiding the local police in preserving order and protecting the old soldiers. The election of officers wil be held tomorrow.

Decatur was chosen as the place for the 1916 meeting.

ENGLAND, FRANCE AND RUSSIA TO GIVE SAFE CONDUCT TO DERNBERG

WASHINGTON, June 2—The British, French and Russian embassies here have assured the state department they will give safe conduct to Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of Germany, when he leaves the United States. It has been known that Dr. Dernburg is about to leave the country and it is reported he will go to Norway some time this month. A few weeks ago when Dr. Dernburg, as a climax to a series of speeches which aroused the resentment of the Washington government, justified the sinking of the Lusitania in a public address, there were broad intimations that through the German embassy he might be invited to leave the country.

TO UNVEIL TABLET.

Decatur, Ill., Junee 2—A large bronze tablet will be unveiled in this city tomorrow afternoon marking the site of the "Wigwam" in which Abraham Lincoln was first mentioned for the presidency.

Lincoln's first endorsement came from the Illinois state Republican convention in session here May 10, 1860. The D. A. R. is in charge of the unveiling.

BATTLE FOR PRZEMYSL CONTINUES UNABATED

BOTH SIDES POUR REINFORCEMENTS INTO THE FIELD

Losses in Men and Material are Piling up to an Unprecedented Extent—Germans Making Another Effort to Break Through Bzura Lines.

London, June 2.—(10:45 p. m.)—The battle for Przemysl, which is proving one of the most stubborn and sanguinary of the war continues with unabated fury. Both sides have poured reinforcements into the field and with attacks and counter-attacks the losses in men and material are piling up to an unprecedented extent. The German and Austrian reports claim that some of the forts on the northern front have already fallen and that on the southeastern front their troops are progressing toward the railway that joins the fortress with Lemberg.

But the latest Petrograd communication says the Germans who got into the trenches were driven out.

Attack Bzura Lines.

To the southeast, simultaneously with this battle, the Germans are making another effort to break through the Bzura lines toward Warsaw but whether this is a serious attempt to capture the Polish capital or only a diversion to prevent the Russians from sending more reinforcements into Galicia, is not disclosed.

The Germans claim to have captured upward of 300,000 Russians and an immense amount of material during the month of May. Despite this the Russians do not appear to have slackened their resistance.

On the Gallipoli peninsula the British and French lines have been subjected to severe attacks by the Turks all of which, according to the British report issued this evening have been repulsed. There as in France trench war is being followed but in this case the allies have the support of their fleet, which in day time is able to search the Turkish trenches and prevent the Turks from coming out into the open and also support the allies' attacks.

Fight for Sugar Refinery.

So far as France is concerned the most important fighting in progress is to the north of Arras where the Germans and French are contending for the possession of the sugar refinery at Souchez, which both claim to hold, and on the outskirts of Le-Pretre forest, where the battle for the trenches has been continuous for weeks.

The latest victim of the German submarines is the British Liner Saidieh, which was sunk in the North Sea with seven of her crew.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE DISCUSSED AND PASSED BY BOARD

Trustees of South Jacksonville Hold Regular Meeting Wednesday Evening—Reward Offered for Light Violators.

The regular meeting of the Village Board of South Jacksonville was held Wednesday evening. All members were present except trustee Heller. President Hackett was in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and all approved bills were ordered paid. The finance committee consisting of James McGinnis, O. B. Heinl and I. R. Baxter after carefully examining and checking the reports of the clerk and treasurer stated that they were correct and ordered the same to be recorded.

A report of the street and alley committee regarding the condition of the roads and ditches during the recent heavy rains was thoroughly discussed and the roads will have proper attention.

The ordinance committee recommended the amount of $1175.00 to be appropriated. Then the annual appropriation ordinance was discussed and upon a motion and a second was unanimously carried. It provides as follows:

For opening, widening and improving are repairing streets and alleys, the sum of $300.

For lighting streets, $400.

Salaries, $200.

Election expenses, $50.00.

Expense for legal services, $50.00.

Printing and stationary $25.00.

Incidentals, $150.

The matter of the street lighting during the past month which has been inadequate, on account of the lights not burning was given attention and it was the opinion of the board to offer a reward for the apprehension of any person or persons turning on the lights other than the Jacksonville Railway and Light company employes. A reward is also to be offered for any person or persons injuring the wires or lamps of the village.

Various matters of business were discussed, the board adjourned to meet July 7th.

The jubilee singers will furnish music.

War News Summarized

It is still in the eastern war theatre—in the San region, around Przemysl and in the vicinity of Stry—that the heaviest fighting of the war is in progress. Victories for the Teutonic allies in all these sectors are claimed by Vienna. Two additional fortifications to the north of Przemysl are said to have been stormed by the Teptons and in the Stry region the allied attacks against the Russians are declared to be progressing.

The Russians took the offensive on the eastern bank of the San and in South Galicia but in both regions, according to Vienna, the Muscovites met defeat with heavy casualties.

On the western line the British near Sonnebeke have taken at the point of the bayonet the Chateau Hogg while the French, according to Paris have repulsed counter-attacks and made new progress against the Germans to the southwest of Neuville St Vaast. The allies also have thrown back German attacks in Champaign and on the outskirts of the LePretre forest, the French report says.

In recent fighting in the region around Carency according to the French official account the allies have taken 3,100 prisoners and buried the bodies of 2,600 German dead. The allied casualties in killed, wounded or missing is given as 3,200 two-thirds of whom are said to have been slightly wounded.

Despite the declaration of Rome that the Italian invasion of Austria is everywhere continuing with success Vienna asserts that the Italian undertakings have been unavailing. The new enemy of the Teutonic allies, Vienna says, is expending great quantities of ammunition without doing any material damage to the Austrian fortifications.

An Italian attack on the coast at frontier is declared to have been repulsed with heavy losses.

The Italian fleet has sailed to the Austrian coast seeking combat with the Austrian ships, according to the Italian ministry of marine.

The Austrians however, were not sighted and the Italian ships destroyed by bombardments a wireless station and an obesrvation point in the Dalmatian Archipeligo.

VILLA AGENT DOES NOT RECOGNIZE RIGHT OF THE U. S. TO INTERFERE

EL PASO, Texas, June 2.—Francisco McManus, Villa consul at El Paso, made the following statement relative to President Wilson's note:

"Except to emphatically state that I do not in any way recognize the right of the United States to interfere in the domestic affairs of Mexico, I have no statement at this time to make regarding the Wilson note. I can add, that foreigners and Mexicans alike, who have gone about their legitimate pursuits in territory controlled by General Villa, have received protection."

VILLA TROOPER KILLS AMERICAN IN LAUNCH WITH CARRANZISTAS

WASHINGTON, June 2.—J. N Bennett, an American, while in a launch with Carranaz soldiers south of Panuco, was shot and killed by a Villa trooper, according to a despatch to the state department from Tampico, dated May 27th, and made public today.

Secretary Bryan announced the government is investigating the case.

The state department has no information as to Bennett's identity, but it is presumed he was employed in the Panuco oil operations. The launch in which he and the Carranziastas were sitting was bound for Tampico when the Villa soldiers opened fire. Whether any one else was killed was not stated.

WILL TRY TO AMEND HOME RULE BILL TODAY

HOUSE TO ATTEMPT TO MAKE MEASURE APPLY ONLY TO CHICAGO

Republicans Will Attempt to Amend House Elections Committee Bill to Provide for General Primary in September and a Preference Primary in April.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—Friends of the public utility home rule bill will try to have it amended by the house tomorrow so as to apply only to Chicago. Last week the house amended the measure to give every municipality the power to regulate its public utilities upon a referendum vote.

Following intimations that Governor Dunne would veto the bill in its amended form Representatice Frankhauser and Corporation Counsel Falsom of Chicago today drafted amendments which would make the bill applicable to Chicago only. The amendments added last week would reduce the powers of the state public utility commission to about the same as were enjoyed by the old railroad and warehouse commission.

To Offer Amendment.

By a vote of practically two to one, Republican senators and house members tonight favored holding the general primary elections in September and a preferrence primary in April. When the house elections committee bill is called up on second reading tomorrow an amendment in accord with the expressed view of the Republican members will be offered and the matter then will be fought on the floor.

Thirty-eight of the fifty-nine assemblymen present at the conference voted in favor of splitting the primaries and holding the general primary in the fall. Practically all private bank legislation before the house, including three measures providing for the state regulation and auditing of private banks was reported out today by the house committee on banks with the recommendation that it be killed.

Confirm Potts' Appointment.

By an unanimous vote the senate confirmed the appointment of Rufus M. Potts of Springfield as state superintendent of insurance. The only recess appointments made by Governor Dunne which are still held up are those of George W. Dowell of Duquoin as a member of the state court of claims and J. M. Booth as public administrator of Kankakee county. Members of the legislature would be authorized to accept free mileage from railroads under the provision of an amendment which the house late today added to the Bailey bill which would permit newspapers and railroads to exchange advertising space for mileage.

Increases Salaries.

Earlier in the day the house passed bill increasing the salaries of members of the legislature from $2,000 to $3,500 a term and appropriating $26,270.18 to reimburse members at the rate of two cents a mile for railroad fare spent in traveling between their homes and session of the legislature.

After numerous unsuccessful efforts had been made to kill it by the addition of "joker" amendments, the house gave its approval to the senate judiciary committee's bill providing for the abatement of disorderly houses by injunction and advanced the measure to third reading. The bill already has been passed by the senate. A bill appropriating $1,000,000 to the University of Illinois for the next two years was advanced to third reading after an amendment had been adopted eliminating a clause which provided that none of the money should be used for the university's school of medicine and dentistry which is located in Chicago. Without the amendment the passage of the bill would have resulted in the discontinuation of the schools in Chicago.

ATTEMPT TO FREE MAN FROM JAIL RESULTS IN DEATH OF THREE

MIAMI, Fla., June 2.—Three men are dead here as the result of an attempt today to free from the county jail John Ashlye, under sentence of death for the murder of a Seminole Indian.

The dead:

B. H. Ashley, brother of the condemned man; Wilbur H. Hendrickson, Jailer; J. R. Ribblett, police officer.

B. H. Ashley, went to the jailer's home called Hendrickson to the door and shot him dead. Mrs. Hendrickson's screams brought Policeman Ribblett and in an exchange of shots between the officer and Ashley, both were mortally wounded.

RE-ELECT GEN. YOUNG.

Richmond, Va., June 2.—General Bennett H. Young of Louisville, Ky., was re-elected commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans today at the annual reunion here.

Birmingham, Ala., was selected as the 1916 reunion city.

General Young was unable to attend the convention because of illness. The delegates sent him a message of sympathy.

TAKE PRISONERS TO HARRISBURG

Harrisburg, Ill., June 2.—John, Neal, Herman and Ben Boner, brothers, who are charged with the murder of Roy Whitehead, son of the sheriff of Johnson county, were brought from Vienna, Ill., to the Harrisburg jail tonight to avert threatened mob violence at the former city.

MEXICANS WILL NOT TOLERATE FOREIGN INSPIRED GOVERNMENT

Hherta States Giving of Moral Support to Any Faction Would Bring Results Opposite to Those Desired.

New York, June 2.—General Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, after he had been shown President Wilson's note regarding the situation in Mexico today, through A. Z. Ratner in whose offices at No. 61 Broadway he makes his headquarters, issued the following statement:

"As a foreigner enjoying the hospitality of a foreign country I should not criticise nor even discuss statements of the government or officers of the foreign country I live in. But I may say this: Any foreign country that is sincere and honest in its endeavor to help our nation would commit the biggest blunder by giving its moral support or assistance to any person or factions.

"Such action, instead of bringing the results desired, would result in the opposite direction. The Mexican nation, as a whole, will never accept any such party, even if it would only be suspected that that party received any help from a foreign country.

"Our people will never stand for any government inspired by foreigners, no matter how humanitarian or noble the motives of such foreign nations appear to be."

CARROLL BOXING BILL IS PASSED BY STATE SENATE

Measure Legalizes Matches in Municipalities Which Adopts it by a Referendum Vote.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—After practically all hope for the passage of a boxing bill at this session of the legislature had been given up the state senate today passed the Carroll boxing bill by a vote of 28 to 15. As it was passed the bill contained a clause which would make its provisions inactive in any municipality until it has been adopted at a referendum vote.

The Carroll bill now goes to the house, which recently killed a similar measure which did not contain the referendum clause. When the bill was defeated in the house, several members contended it would force legalized boxing bouts on every community in the state. With the addition of the referendum feature friends of the bill hope it will now be passed by the house. The bill legalizes ten-round no-decision boxing bouts under the supervision of a state athletic commission, composed of three members to be appointed by the governor. It provides that seven and one-half per cent of the net receipts of all exhibitions be paid to the state. Members of the athletic commission would receive $2,500 a year. The measure was passed with two votes to spare.

CONLEY DENIES WRITING THE ANNA MAUD CARTER LETTERS

Negro Factory Sweeper Completes Sentence as An Accessory to the Murder of Mary Phagan.

Atlanta, Ga., June 2—James Conley, negro factory sweeper, who completed last night his sentence of one year as acccssory to the murder of Mary Phagan, denied today that he had written the Anna Maud Carter letters which figured in Leo M. Frank's extraordinary motion for a new trial.

Conley's denial, made in the presence of Solicitor Dorsey, was the first intimation that Conley had not been the author of these letters by which Frank's lawyers sought to show that Conley had written without assistance the famous "murder notes" found beside Mary Phagan's body. Conley testified at Frank's trial that the notes were written by him at Frank's dictation.

Frank's counsel contended that the expressions and general form of dictation in the Carter letters were identical with those of the murder notes and that Conley had written both independent of outside suggestion. Counsel for Mrs. J. W. Coleman, mother of Mary Phagan, announced today that neither Conley nor Frank would be called upon to testify before commissioners in the suit which Mrs. Coleman has brought against the National Pencil factory in whose building the Phagan girl was found dead.

WILSON CALLS FOR PEACE IN MEXICO

Demands Setting Up of Government That Can Be Accorded Recognition

SENDS NOTE TO LEADERS

States Failure Will Constrain United States "To Decide What Means Should Be Employed"

MARKS DEPARTURE IN POLICY

WASHINGTON, June 2,—All factions in Mexico were publicly called upon by President Wilson today in the name of the United States government "to accommodate their differences" and set up a government that can be accorded recognition.

Failure to unite in a movement to bring peace to Mexico "within a very short time", it was announced in a statement telegraphed to Generals Carranza, Villa, Zapata and others, would constrain the United States "to decide what means should be employed" in order to save the people of the southern republic from further devastations of internal warfare.

Marks Departure in Policy

Everywhere—in official and diplomatic quarters and among Mexicans of varied leaning—the statement was interpreted as meaning that the United States would bring pressure to bear first to unite the factions in the choice of a provisional president and failing to bring all elements together would give its active support to those elements which did agree. Intervention was considered as a possible ultimate development, but only if a hopeless condition of anarchy followed with no remedy from within the republic. The statement marks a departure in the policy of the Washington government toward Mexico.

It was decided upon after several meetings of the president and his cabinet and a study of the reports of DuVal West, who made a personal investigation of conditions in Mexico and declared that none of the factions seemed capable of restoring order or bringing into power a stable government. Foreign nations have been taken into the confidence of the United States and those European diplomatists who would express themselves indicated their approval of the plan. In South American circles it was declared today's statement was a logical development of the mediation conference at Nigara Falls, when the United States together with Argentine, Brazil and Chile, signed a protocol agreeing to recognize the government set up by agreement of the factions.

Starts Variety of Speculation.

The effect of the statement here was to start a variety of speculation as to what the American government meant by lending "its active moral support to some man or group of men, if such may be found, in an effort to ignore if they cannot unite the warring factions of the country".

In high official quarters it was explained that the United States hitherto had maintained neutrality as between the factions but now was preparing to choose between them or to give its support to those elements in the existing factions which gave most promise of success.

An embargo on arms and the cutting off of other means of support in the United States would be put into operation to assist the chosen elements as against those which ignored the American government's demand for peace

Details Not Available.

While details of the government's policy are not yet available, it was said on good authority that it was intended to restore constitutional government in Mexico after the factions had agreed on their man for provisional president by first according recognition to Vasquez Tagle or some of the other members of the cabinet of the late President Madero entitled to succession under the Mexican laws.

The minister so recognized would be expected to formally appoint to the cabinet the man chosen to head the new government in whose favor he then would resign.

Ernesto Madero and Manuel Bonilla also were members of the Madero cabinet but Vasquez Tagle, minister of justice, was the only one who did not present his resignation.

The details of a constitutional succession however, it is understood, will not be given attention until there is an agreement on the new provisional president and his cabinet. An effort is to be made to secure men for the port folios who represent various branches of Mexican politics, the majority being committed to a government based on liberal principles and pledged to

Wilson and the Count Confer.

While none of the details of the conversation between President Wilson and Count Von Bernstorff yesterday have been made public there was the general feeling in Washington that our relations with Germany had taken a more hopeful turn. It was clearly understood that the president had not receded in any way from his former position that Germany must either observe the accepted rules of international warfare or declare her intention of following her own rules.

One reason for the hopeful feeling expressed at the capital is based on the fact that the president arranged for the ambassador to have his message to Germany transmitted in code to the U. S. ambassador at Berlin and thus delivered to the Kaiser.

This was done because of the trouble experienced by Count Von Bernstorff in getting some of his former messages through. If the statement made to his government in the present instance had not been of a character satisfactory to the U. S. it does not seem likely that the German ambassador would have sought the aid of this government in getting the message through promptly and correctly.

While it is understood that Germany's earlier reply was not in accord with the expectations of Count Von Bernstorff as based upon his report to his government there seems to be some reason for hope that his views in the present instance will be given more recognition. The ambassador no doubt has been greatly impressed by the feeling Germany's attitude has caused in this country and appreciates the seriousness of the situation. It will be strange indeed if the German government declines to view the local situation in the accordance with the facts and opinions supplied by its own representative.

Farmers Lost the Money.

For nine months ending March, 1915, fresh meats were imported into this country to the astonishing amount of 184,000,000 pounds, with an average value at the port of entry of 9 1-2 cents a pound, and this despite the severe handicap of decreased ocean tonnage and the consequent increase in freight rates from South American countries. For the nine months ending March, 1914 six months under Democratic law, the importations of fresh meats were 90,000,000 pounds, average entry value 8 1-2 cents a pound. These imports rose to 193,600,000 pounds by June of that year. During the 18 months operation of the Underwood law up to March, 1915, 377,600,000 pounds of fresh meat came into the United States without paying one cent of duty. Fresh meat imports under Republican law were so negligible that they were not separately listed, but it is estimated that less than 10,000,000 pounds were imported for 1913. The effect of these large imports under a Democratic tariff law was not to lower the price of fresh meat to the consumer, but to cripple the market for the farmer and stockraiser.

U. S. PLANTS TREES.

That Uncle Sam is determined future generations of young Americans shall not suffer any decrease in the crop of Christmas trees is shown by the fact that the forest service is about finishing up its big planting of ten million trees. All over the vast areas of the national forest reserves in the western states, mostly in mountainous regions, this work has been vigorously prosecuted for several months. Not only does the government wish to preserve the stock of Christmas trees, but it seeks to preserve the fertility of the higher areas, and prevent the washing away of the soil into the valleys by the rainfall. The trees and their roots form a huge reservoir on each hill and mountain, retarding the rainfall and snows, thus preventing floods as well as perserving fertility.

Under the care of the forest reserve men, an area equality 14,000 acres have been put out this year in pines, larches, spruce, cedars, firs and smaller varieties. About two days has been required to plant one acre, the work being done by gangs of men who set out with wagons, cooking outfits and all paraphernalia of a mining expedition. The young trees were grown in nurseries located at different points in the west. At these stations the seed is sown in huge hotbeds. This seed is gathered each fall by the ton. The work shows the wisdom of our government.

King George's Birthday.

King George V of England, who, though shorn of the ancient supreme power that is exemplified in the Czar and the Kaiser, is nevertheless the respected and beloved ruler of vast domains, is 50 years old today. In the conduct of the European war His Majesty takes a lively interest. He is constantly in touch with the movements of the allies, follows on the maps the strategic movements of warships and armies, and shares in the secret plans for doing England's share in the big conflict. King George is said to be a real factor in the government policies, despite the belief that his office is only one of honor. He was born at Marlborough House, London, June 3, 1865, the second son of the late Edward VII. When his brother, Albert Victor, died in 1892, he became the heir to the throne, and acceded on May 6, 1910. He was but 12 years old when he was sent to the naval training ship Bacchante to begin his training. At 26 he had risen to the rank of commodore and was assigned to a cruiser. He loved the sea and was proud of his naval standing. The king is a small man, weighing 140 pounds. He is quiet and reserved, and gets away from all public functions as soon as he can. He is a devoted father, and keeps a strict oversight of the education and discipline of his children. He and his cousin, the Kaiser, had been warm friends till this sad political rupture of the present has made them bitter enemies.

The Jitneys Lose.

The Illinois Utility Commission has declared that the jitney which provides a definite service as to route and tours is a utility and properly comes under the jurisdiction of the commission. Further it is declared that the Jitney, cannot be operated without local supervision or without having obtained from the commission a certificate of convenience and necessity. The ruling indicates that the commission believes that controlled monopoly is better for the people than is unrestricted competition.

It is held that a motor service which uses the streets in the same way that a street car company does must be placed in the same class and further that such service is not fair if it damages a company which is affording an adequate service.

After all the facts are considered it seems reasonable that a motor service which depends upon the use of public highways for the operation of its business should be subjected to regulation if street car companies are to be so regulated. The question therefore becomes one of fact and if a motor transportation company can show that it wishes to serve the public where there is a demand for the service because of the need or the convenience, authority to operate can be secured. Further the effect of the ruling should be to compel railroad companies to furnish good service in the territory they presumably serve and in territory not served by street railroads it will be an easy matter for the motor companies to prove that the public will be convenienced by their operation. However in small cities the effect of the order will be to practically put the Jitneys out of business.

England Compliments Us.

Brief comment in English papers upon the U. S. note to Germany with reference to the sinking of the Lusitania were cabled soon after the note was dispatched. However there is interest in the following more extended comment taken from an editorial in the London Observer which has just come to hand. The Observer is complimentary to the statesmanship of President Wilson and to the general spirit of the United States.

"President Wilson has sent his message to Germany upon the events of which the murder of the Lusitania's passengers constitutes the climax. Its character may disconcert some of those who had expunged offhand its author's name from the category of virile statesmanship. There is no sphere in which misconception may have to be risked and borne with such prolonged patience for the sake of over-ruling objects as in the management of foreign policy. The impression that Dr. Wilson was a weak man has had its victims in this country and its exponents in his own. Those who, like ourselves, have held a more discriminating view are justified by a document in which firmness and address have thrown their fullest strength into combination.

"It is tempting to recall what our poet has said of England, "when England grows polite." There is a deadly suavity pervading the President's Note which will be more significant to the wise than if it had emptied the whole arsenal of declamation. Smoother steel never shone in the eye of an expectant duellist. Only when men know their own minds—and the minds of their supporters— can they enact the full ritual of courtesy with the aplomb and tranquility of which the President acquits himself. The punctilious avoidance of imputation, the studious ascription of a "humane and enlightened attitude" to the German Government, the resolute assumption that the infamies practised in its interest were the work of insubordinate agents whom it must disavow—all these drive the recipient with the surest forensic art into a position where he must either bow to the sceptre of civilization or declare himself an unequivocal outlaw.

"I endorses the confidence of American citizens "that their own government will sustain them," and it assumes that Germany will not calculate upon the omission of "any word or act necessary" to that inalienable purpose.

"The whole moral sense and honour of his countrymen have visibly rallied behind the 'subdued unmistakeableness of the 'President's challenge. The patience with which provocation has been endured has created a storage of national spirit that now bears with undivided intensity upon the matured issue. America will regulate her relations with Germany according to the status of that country under the civilized code. This is a fixed factor whatever the sequel may bring."

Clemantine Stultz of Palmyra was among the callers in the city Wednesday.

MRS. MARTHA E. METCALF IS NINETY-THREE YEARS OF AGE

The 8th of this month will be the 93d birthday of Mrs. Martha E. Metcalf, a former resident of Jacksonville, but who is now making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Della Gardner of 1011 River Road, Minneapolis. Mrs. Metcalf was born near Winchester, Clarke county, Kentucky. She first married George W. Reid and her second marriage was to William J. Metcalf, who died twenty years ago. The children surviving from both marriages are W. T. Reid, Belmont, Calif; J. E. Reid, Riverside, Calif.; George Reid, Miami, Florida; Newton W. Reid, Jacksonville; Henry Metcalf, Jacksonville; Mrs. Della Gardner, Minneapolis; Albert Metcalf, Greenfield.

Up until the death of Mrs. N. W. Reid of this city Mrs. Metcalf had made her home here. Although nearing the century mark she enjoys good health. Her many friends will extend congratulations to her upon the occasion of the ninety-third milestone of life.

JITNEY SERVICE SEEMS DONE FOR IN STATE

RULING MADE IN FAVOR OF STREET CAR COMPANY.

Commission Classes Motor Transportation Business as a Utility—Decision is Nation-wide in Importance.

Argument was made before Judge O. P. Thompson of the Illinois Utility commission yesterday in concluding the jitney hearing and the ruling made was in favor of the street car company. Judge Thompson's opinion is that the jitney or motor transportation business as conducted by L. F. O'Donnell in this city must be classed as a utility and so properly comes under the jurisdiction of the commission.

Briefly stated, Judge Thompson held that the jitney is a utility business; that it cannot be operated except by a corporation; that it is subject to license or regulation by a local city council, and cannot operate at all unless a certificate of conveniene and necessity has been secured from the utility commission. Judge Thompson indicated that the commission would not look with favor upon the establishment of any motor service which was in direct competition with an adequate street car service—in other words, a certificate of convenience and necessity will not be considered as desirable unless territory served is beyond the radius from which the street car company is drawing its patronage.

Argument By Attorney.

Argument was made on behalf of the utility company by H. V. Green of Urbana and on behalf of Mr. O'Donnel by T. J. Condon of Springfield. Subsequently Judge Thompson gave the ruling already indicated, and while the whole board must take action, undoubtedly the other members will concur in Judge Thompson's finding. In addition to the argument made by Mr. Green, C. J. Serals, attorney for the railway company in Rock Island, also made a statement. Among those who attended the hearing were attorneys for several cities and several railways, and also Larry Gould of New York City, editor-in-chief of the Street Railway Journal.

The decision is accounted of nation-wide importance as no utility commission has previously given an opinion upon the matter and the growth of the jitney business in a large number of cities during recent months has caused a vast amount of uneasiness among the managers of street car companies. While the commission ruling has not been made a matter of record in a formal way, the statements made would indicate that the jitney service is practically done for in this state, at least except in the large cities. In Jacksonville there would hardly be enough terrtiory outside of that which might be considered contiguous and adjacent to the street railway service to provide any stable return for jitney operators. Even in Springfield it is said that a large amount of the jitney patronage is drawn along streets where the jitneys parallel the service of the street railway companies.

Does Not Apply to Busses.

Judge Thompson also made it clear that the ruling does not apply to busses or service of that class—that, motor cars can be used for transportation where they are not operated along fixed routes and upon a certain schedule, without being amenable to the utility commission. When they are operated along announced routes and according to a definite time schedule, then according to the ruling the service becomes of a different class and properly under the direction of the commission.

In his argument in behalf of the motor transportation company Mr. Condon declared that there was a great difference between public use and public convenience and that the the law which created the utility commission did not contemplate that it should take charge of a service like that provided by the transportation company. He admitted that the service here does follow a definite time schedule but said that the service was variable and for different charges that the cars would go over other than specific routes. He considered that a car owner in entering motor service was simply using his car for hire and that the owner had the same rights that a carriage or bus driver might claim.

Local Losses Cited.

Mr. Green's argument was that the operation of a motor transportation company encroached upon the rights of the people in the use made of the streets and that by this very method of use that the company must properly be classed as a utility. He gave the figures to show the loss in passengers of the local street railway since the jitney service was inaugurated and maintained that in view of the former position taken by the commission that it could not properly refuse to consider the jitneys as under its control.

The board has heretofore held that competitive service does not necessarily mean better service for the public and has declared that where a utility is giving adequate service at a reasonable price that the public good is not subserved by the granting of authority for the operation of another utility which cannot give a better service and a lower price. In other words, the board believes that in certain classes of business that a properly regulated monopoly is better for the people than unrestricted competition. In several instances the board has gone on record in this matter and does not believe that a new utility should be established in direct competition with another utility when it is known in advance that there is not sufficient business whereby both may live and give adequate service.

In making his ruling Judge Thompson declared that the act which created the Illinois commission was broader in its scope than the similar laws in other states insofar as the powers of the commission are concerned.

MORTUARY

Healey.

Rev. William J. Healey, pastor of the St. Bartholomew church in Murrayville died Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock after an illness extending over a year.

He was born at Avoca, Pennsylvania, and was 46 years of age. Twenty-one years ago he was ordained a priest and he first was an assistant at the cathedral in Alton, and later came to Jacksonville. He went from there to Effingham, and after being there sixteen years was transferred to Marshall, Ill., and last October was appointed to the charge at Murrayville.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Healey and two sisters. Taeresa and Josephine, both of Chicago. His cousin Miss Ellen Foye was his housekeeper.

Father Healey was a man much beloved by all who knew him. He was liberal in his ideas and widely read. Through his affable manner he made fast friends wherever he went. He was particularly successful in his work and was a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus, frequently delivering lectures in the interests of the order. His name will ever be revered by those who knew him best.

The funeral will be held from the Murrayville church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and burial will be in Murrayville.

TRAINS OF OVER 50 CARS ARE SAFER THAN SHORTER TRAINS

Chicago, June 2.—The chance of death or injury to railroad employes is 37 per cent greater with trains of 50 cars or less than with longer trains, according to accident statistics for 23 of the principal steam railroads operating in Illinois, compiled as an additional argument against the passage of the train limit bill now pending before the Illinois legislature.

This bill would prohibit the operation of freight trains of more than 50 cars. Although advocated by the railroad labor brotherhoods as a "safety" measure, raiload managers say that in view of the facts shown by the casualty statistics it should more properly be called a bill to increase railroad accidents, and that its ony purpose is to increase the number of trains in order to force them to employ more men.

The 23 roads in 113, the latest year for which the statistics are available, operated in Illinois 236,702 trains of over 50 cars, on which 23 employes were killed and 46 were injured, or one man killed or injured for every 3,430 trains run. These same roads ran 413,510 trains of 50 cars or less, on which 43 employes were killed and 149 seriously injured, or one to every 2,154 trains run. On the longer trains one man was killed for every 10,291 trains run and one was injured for every 5,145, whereas on the shorter trains one was killed for every 9,616 trains and one injured for every 2,775.

The greater proportion of accidents on the shorter trains is attributed mainly to their greater speed. It is pointed out by the railroad managers, however, that the passage of a law limiting trains to a maximum of 50 cars would have a two-fold effect in increasing the number of accidents, because in addition to the greater liability per train it would increase the number of trains required to handle the same amount of traffic.

CHARLES H. ELLIOTT HAS OLD GAZETTEER

Charles H. Elliott, 515 West State street, is the owner of an interesting volume published in 1866 and known as the Sangamon County Gazetteer. The book was published by John C. W. Bailey and contains the city directories of both Springfield and Jacksonville. Besides there are "historical and descriptive sketches of the several townships of the county."

Published before the day of numbered houses, all locations were given by direction. A given residence was thus the second, third or fourth house from a specified cross street.

The Jacksonville street directory contains names of many streets since supplanted by others and railroads, state institutoins and schools have each different names. Among the organizations no longer seen among the secret and benevolent societies are the Good Templars, the Sons of Tmperance, the Morgan County Agricultural society and the Turner's association. Three publications are listed in the volume, the Jacksonville Journal, the Jacksonville Sentinel and the Protestant Missionary. The railroads were the St. Louis, Jacksonville & Chicago, now the C. & A.; the Peoria, Pekin and Jacksonville, or at present the C. P. & St. L., and the Toledo, Wabash and Western. In the advertisement for St. Louis, Jacksonville & Chicago R. R., the public is reminded that "railroad time is about thirteen minutes faster than Jacksonville time."

SOCIETY MEETS TODAY.

The Ladies Aid society of Westminster church will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors. All members are urged to be present.

Rent Houses Wanted

There has never been a time when desirable rent houses, $7.50 to $25, were scarcer at Johnston Agency than they are today. Our facilities for securing the right renter for the right house are good. Being the only agency in the city making a specialty of this business, a constant stream of applicants pours through our office. We know what is due to tenants in the way of repairs, and our tenants stay. On the other hand, we collect all rents in advance, and we do not, upon the average, lose a full month's rent upon one house a year.

Landlords—We think you will find it profitable, and save yourselves a great amount of trouble, if you will let us attend to your rentals. We have made a science of it. And we respectfully solicit your business.

Mr. Rogerson Shows Salary Schedule In New Light

Editor Journal:

I have gone over the salary schedule of our public schools and have carefully prepared the following statement of facts which I believe is an accurate showing in a simple form that the average citizen can understands and will not take an expert accountant to figure out the condition of our public school finances. I do not believe that the $1,970 shown as a difference is a saving, for the reason that $5,458 worth of teachers and janitors have to be let out, to make this $1,970 difference in the pay rolls, and the salaries have been increased $5,492 at the expense of, I am free to state I believe the best interests of the school. If we have to let out $5,458 worth of teachers and janitors this year to meet the increase in teachers' salaries who will have to be let cut next year to meet the increase? Under the minimum wage scheme you will also note there has been no provision made for a clerk for the board. I mean as far as salary is concerned. If we pay a clerk $600 per year it will reduce the difference to $1,370.

I fully agree with Mr. Taxpayer when he states the plan we are trying to adopt is going backwards and if you will ask school men, they will tell you so as they have me. In the beautiful and progressive little city of Champaign, Ill., they have one of the best public school systems in the state where Prof. W. W. Ernest, respected by every citizen and loved by every child in the city is superintendent and one of highest class men in the state and they pay their teachers as follows: grade teachers for the first year receive $55 per month, $60 the second, $65 the 5th and $70 the tenth year of teaching. First grade teachers receive $5 more per month. Principals, all women, receive $70 to $100 per month. The high school principal receives $1900. Assistant principal $1250. High school teachers $720 to $1200—two receiving $1200, 3 receiving $1000, two $945, two $900, two $855, five $810, two $765, two $720. So it does not appear that under our old schedule our teachers have been under paid.

Germs Can't Stay With This Treatment

No Impurities Can Retain A Foothold—They're Driven Out.

The action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is direct from the moment it enters the stomach. Unlike food that must be acted upon by the digestive juices, S. S. S. goes at once into the blood, and in less than five minutes has traversed the entire circulation.

It now rapidly spreads its medicinal action in the fine network of blood vessels and is like giving the blood a thorough bath, to overcome eczema, blood risings, boils and other eruptive conditions. It can not harm any part of the system. It does not lodge in the joints as do mercury, arsenic and other minerals frequently to be found in blood remedies. It is a natural medicine for the blood, just as essential to health if germs have gotten the upper hand as is nutritious food if after a spell of sickness the body calls for nourishment. Wherever you go you are sure to meet some one who used S. S. S. for the blood and is a willing witness to its wonderful power to overcome blood troubles. You can obtain S. S. S. in almost any drug store in the U. S., a significant fact as to its worth and its sterling reputation. Get a bottle today. It will do you good. Write to The Swift Specific Co., 104 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., if the directions with the bottle do not fully cover your case.

PROTECT YOUR HOMES AGAINST FLIES!

Flies are annoying in the home but the danger of disease from them is far more important.

You cannot "swat" all the flies but you can keep them all out of your home if you let us make the screens. They will cost you little more than the ready made kind and will certainly fit.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Some of the Kings

By Ensley Moore.

Member of Illinois State Historical Society.

Joseph W. King was born in Hartford, Conn., Sept. 10, 1808, being the oldest child of John and Mary Otis King. They had three children, J. W. surviving longest.

John King was a successful merchant in the grocery business. He and his wife were both descended from the old Puritan stock. Mr. King died on shipboard on passage from Charleston, S. C., to New York, April 1, 1814. His remains were brought ashore and interred at Hartford. Mrs. King died at Westfield, Mass., Nov. 6, 1831.

Joseph W. King received his education at Westfield, Mass. He learned the jewelry business, making a specialty of the manufacture of silver spoons, in after life. He married Miss Abbie E. Hamilton in Westfield, Mass., in October, 1833. She was the daughter of Eli B. and Minerva Hamiton of that place. Mrs. King was a large and fine looking lady, of good mind and strong and admirable character. She was born in Blanford, Mass. Her parents' ancestors were English and Scotch. Mr. and Mrs. King had two children, but one of whom survived.

"J. W.," as he was generally referred to here, arrived in Jacksonville in November, 1838, establishing himself in the jewelry business, in which he continued until 1866, when he retired. He used to have a little frame store where Cassell's is now, just north of the Ayers National bank. In an early advertisement he referred to its "bow window," a rarity in those days. About 1855 the little shop was moved around on West State street, just west of the square, and Mr. King built what was then one of the handsomest stores on the square, the building now occupied by Robert T. Cassell.

Mr. King at an early date built the fine old-fashioned house on West State street, just west of Diamond court, which continued to be his residence the rest of his life. The house was afterwards remodeled without being improved in appearance. It became the home of his daughter-in-law, who was known last as Mrs. Benj. H. Grierson, and it descended to her son, Harold A. King, now of Ft. Davis, Texas. Mr. King's best monument, in some respects, was the fine trees now shading the street in front of his former residence, which trees he set out in 1840, and they must have been among the first so planted on the former prairie upon which Jacksonville was built.

Mr. King was an early and always pronounced anti-slavery man; first a Whig, and then a Republican, being a delegate to the first Republican state convention in Illinois, held at Bloomington in 1856, its nominee for governor, Col. William H. Bissell, being the first Republican governor elected. "J. W." was a supporter of Lincoln's and of Governor Richard Yates, with whom he was on intimate terms.

In 1852 Governor Yates and Mr. King became partners in some real estate matters, the main one being in and near Decatur, this state. Their addition to that city, "Yates and King" as it was called, was a decided financial success to them. Gov. R. J. Oglesby appointed Mr. King a trustee of the Soldiers' Orphans' home at Normal, and he was treasurer of the board.

Mr. King died in May, 1884, his wife surviving him until April 3, 1888.

John W. was the son of Joseph W. and Abbe Hamilton King. He was born in 1839 and came here with his parents from Westfield, Mass. "Col. John W.," as he came to be known, attended the public schools here, then Illinois college and Wyman's school in St. Louis, Mo. In 1859 he became a partner in the jewelry business with his father.

Upon the outbreak of the Civil war John W. was among the first to enlist, going out April 22, 1861, as first lieutenant of the Hardin Light Guard and returning as captain. He raised a company, of which he became captain, for the 68th Illinois volunteers. Later on he served on the staff of Governor Yates, with the rank of colonel.

In 1869 John W. went to Chicago for awhile, after which he was in the U. S. Internal Revenue service here.

In 1872 he married Miss Eva Lillian Atwood of Alton, descended from one of the best New England families. After his marriage Col. King was engaged in the jewelry trade here with partners, finally carrying on his business alone. He at one time occupied the building now known as Bassett's jewelry store, on the west half of the south side of the square.

Col. and Mrs. King had but one child, a son, Harold A., who is now and has been for years a resident of Fort Davis, Texas, with which region he has been prominently identified.

Col. John W. King was at times a member of several of the secret orders. He was a tall man, of commanding appearance, and a fine drillmaster. In politics he was a republican. He died March 3, 1884.

The history of the J. W. King family here, would hardly be complete without reference to Eli Bries and Minnie Hamilton. They were nephew and niece of Mrs. King and lost their parents when very young. Thereafter till grown their home was at the King's. They lived of late years in Terra Taute, Ind., where Mr. Hamilton died about three years ago. He was graduated from Illinois college in 1865, was a Phi Alpha and served in the 145th Regiment of Ill. volunteers.

He married Miss Ella K. Smith of Sycamore, Ill., who survives him.

Miss Minnie Hamilton was an exceptionally bright young woman. She married Mr. W. J. Button of Terra Haute, which is still her home.

One of the most active, prominent and valuable citizens Jacksonville ever had was Joseph O. King. He was born in Enfield, Conn., in 1814, and came west in 1838. That brought to Jacksonville the second Joseph King of that time; possibly this one was the first. But thereafter they were referred to here as "J. O." and "J. W."

Joseph O. King, who was a man of fine tastes, was fortunate in securing as a life partner a Miss Dwight, who was much interested in social, musical and religious matters in this place.

They were the parents of four children, Misses Mary and Emma, and Edward Joseph and William Mattoon.

Joseph O. King was referred to by Mr. John W. Lathrop in this early day story: "At one time, I think in 1838 or 1839, I was riding with J. O. King to Manchester, our horses walking liesurely along in Sandy timber when within gunshot at our right we counted fourteen fine deer feeding quietly upon the early spring grass. On our return in the afternoon they were still feeding, nearer the road, and a part of them crossed the road just in front of us. Venison was sold at 75 cents to $1 for the loin and two hindquarters. (Think of the toothsome food at such a price!)

Of course J. O. King belonged to that fire company of 1840; nearly everybody did.

That eminent chronicler, Eames, says: "In the Spring of 1846 Miss Dix (Dorothy), upon the earnest solicitations of a citizen of Jacksonville, Mr. J. O. King, changed her intended program for that season and visited this place, and after several conferences with our citizens agreed to traverse the state, visit the penitentiary (at Alton then), the county poor-houses and jails, and make an appeal to the succeeding legislature in behalf of the insane." out of this grew the present Jacksonville hospital, the first in the state.

Mr. King was always very active in starting what he esteemed to be good or valuable public institutions. His brother, Samuel Reynolds King known as Reynolds, accompanied Miss Dix in a trip over "on the Military Tract" in her work.

Speaking of the school for the Blind, Eames says, "A number of the citizens of Jacksonville agreed that if he ,(a blind man named Bacon) could secure and teach a small class for six months as an experiment, that they would pay the expenses, to which he assented. He opened the school during the summer of 1848, which was continued at the expense of the citizens till relieved by the state more than a year later."

A school was established here by the state and it "was superintended chiefly by Dr. Nathaniel English and Mr. Jos. O. King, neither of whose names ever afterwards appeared in connection with the institution"—meaning probably that they were shouldered aside.

According to J. O. King, Anderson Foreman and Henry Irving, the first Republican club in the nation, was organized here—by them and others—in 1853. In this connection it may be noted that J. O. King's barn was once used as a depot on the Underground railroad.

Jan. 1, 1858, illuminating gas was turned on, for the first time in Jacksonville through the special efforts of J. O. King and M. P. Ayers in organizing and financing a company for that purpose. Our present gas and electric plant came from that beginning.

About 1870 continuous efforts were begun which resulted in the establishment of our city waterworks. J. O. King was very active and valuable in this.

In 1845-8 Mr. King was a trustee of the town of Jacksonville, and in 1874-5 he was mayor of the city of Jacksonville. Referring to the latter time, Eames remarked: "Under the lead of our far-sighted and public-spirited mayor, Hon. J. O. King, supported by a progressive common council, many improvements have been inaugurated and carried through, and our municipal affairs are in a very favorable condition."

Ensley Moore happened to be a member of that council.

Mr. King erected (as owner) about 1860 the building where Lee P. Alcott has his drug store.

Some car works were organized here in 1872, the company being incorporated in 1873. Among the most active of the promoters and stockholders was J. O. King. This organization ran for some years, in various ways, but is not to be confused with the present car works of the C. P. & St. L. R. R.

Mr. King eventually became the principal force in the gas company and on his death was succeeded by his son, Edward J. King, who died not long after.

Edward J. King married Miss Ida V. Sawyer, daughter of Dr. C. K. Sawyer of this city. They were the parents of several children.

Edward J. showed decided ability in the gas business, but died October 28, 1889. His wife lived here for a while, at the northeast corner of West College avenue and Prairie street, and then went to Chicago to make her home. She died there some years ago.

Miss Mary King lived to the last in the family home, at the southeast corner of West College avenue and Fayette street and died a few years ago.

Miss Emma King married a Mr. E. Dwight, now of New York City, and she occasionally re-visits her old home. Along about the war times, Miss King was one of our most cultivated and pleasing singers. She appeared very frequently in leading musical events.

Wm. M. King was a graduate of Illinois college in the class of 1870. He has been engaged in business in New York City for many years, and is reported to have been very successful. He is a very retiring, but pleasant gentleman, gladly welcomed back to his native heath.

Both of the King boys were members of Phi Alpha society of Illinois college.

Mr. J. O. King died April 16, 1887, Mrs. King having gone some years before him. Mrs. King was a sister of Mrs. Elizur Wolcott.

Joseph O. King had a brother, Samuel Reynolds King, familiarly known as Reynolds, who was born in Enfield, Conn., Dec. 26, 1819.

Upon the death of his father, when Reynolds was quite young, he went to Springfield, Mass. to make his home with the uncle, Samuel Reynolds, for whom he was named. When twenty-three years of age—in 1842—Mr. King came to Jacksonville. He clerked at first for his brother, J. O., who was then in the dry goods business.

It may be said that J. O. soon after coming here to live, was a partner of Dr. M. M. L. Reed in a drug store. Later, about 1856-60, he was a member of the firm of Massey, King, Neely & Co. They had a planing mill on North Sandy street, just a block north of the Wabash railway. It was on the west side of Sandy street.

Mr. Reynolds King's second employment here was in the dry goods store of (J. O.) King & Campbell. Mr. Campbell was afterwards of the firm of Ayers, Campbell & Co. He died in 1859. His widow, who had been a Miss Parsons, afterwards married Moore C. Goltra, and they were the parents of Edward F. Goltra, now of St. Louis.

Mr. Campbell built the house at the northeast corner of West College avenue and Park street, so long occupied by Frank E. Dayton, and his widow, afterwards the wife of the Hon. John Gordon.

Reynolds King next engaged in business in partnership with Mr. Geo. C. Scott, a native of Pennsylvania. It is doubtful whether two handsomer men ever were associated together in business in Jacksonville. They were men of fine manners, and, they were bachelors.

Mr. King last was in the dry goods trade in a store on the east side of the square about where the south side of the Hockenhull building now stands.

In 1866, upon the founding of that institution, Mr. King became a member of the great banking house of Hockenhull, King and Elliott. They first occupied the second store north of East State street, afterwards going into their own building which now houses the Elliott State Bank.

Mr. King was married on July 2, 1886 to Miss Mary Belatti, an aunt of Mr. John A. Belatti. They made a happy pair, dwelling for the rest of Mr. King's days on earth, at the northeast corner of Morton avenue and Church street.

Mr. King became a member of the Congregational church soon after his coming here.

Mr. King was of a very modest and retiring disposition, and a very pleasant man. As an evidence of his unostentation it is related that, for years, he gave twenty-five dollars per annum to the African Methodist church of this city. Mr. King died June 8, 1889.

"He was the last one (of his generation) of a worthy family. His only sister, Mrs. Mabel Coombs, of Philadelphia, came west many years ago to visit her brothers, but on the way was stricken by a fatal disease, and died the day after her arrival."

Another account states that Mrs. Coombs died of cholera, that dreaded scourage of the west in earlier days.

MR. HAMILTON GAVE ORATION.

Nearly all in any way interested in Illinois college will remember Gen. E. B. Hamiton of Quincy, the gifted orator, the prince among gentlemen, the brave veteran and genial friend. His son, E. B. Hamilton, Jr., is a graduate of Illinois college and a rising young lawyer in Peoria. He was the orator on the recent Memorial day and the Peoria Star prints his address in full. Referring to the address, the Star says:

The orator of the day was Attorney E. B. Hamilton, son of Brigadier General E. B. Hamilton, who went out as first lieutenant in the One Hundred and Eighteenth Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and played a gallant part throughout the war, becoming aide to General Fonda and military governor of Baton Rouge when that stronghold fell before the northern arms.

The Memorial day address delivered by Attorney E. B. Hamilton, of Camp Thrush, Sons of Veterans, in the Coliseum held spellbound an immense throng that crowded the great building. Breathless attention was interrupted by wild bursts of cheers.

The members of Phi Alpha society are earnestly hoping the gentleman will be here to attend and enjoy the love feast to be held in the society hal next Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moloney and children were in the city from Murrayville procigct yesterday.

SCHRAM

THE UNDESIRABLE CITIZEN

Nine men get up at break of dawn, and toil with splendid zest, to trim the whiskers from the lawn, and keep the weeds suppressed. They pull up thistles by the roots and swat all noxious weeds, and softly say, "We'll bet our boots these things won't scatter seeds." They to their homes devote their lives; they strive to keep things neat; they know the lawn where bluegrass thrives for beauty can't be beat. The tenth man doesn't care a whoop how shabby things appear; the weeds are growing round his coop in regiments each year. The grass is smothered by the weeds, which swipe each inch of soil, and every zephyr blows the seeds, to queer the good men's toil. There isc no law to make him eat his weeds, or mow them down although his place will queer the street, and handicap the town. Why doesn't congress up and knock this Jonah on the pate? For nearly every village block has got this sort of skate.

BRAVES AND GIANTS PLAY TEN INNING TIE

GAME IS CALLED BECAUSE OF DARKNESS.

Six New York Runners Actually Cross the Plate But One Run is Lost in an Unusual Manner—Brooklyn Takes Two From Phillies.

Boston, June 2.—New York and Boston played ten innings to a tie. The game was called because of darkness. Six New York runners actually crossed the home plate but one run was lost in an unusual manner. Burns, from third base, had raced for home when Moran caught Doyle's fly. The Boston outfielder threw the ball toward the home plate but Captain Doyle of the Giants intercepted it at first base. It was his contention that the ball was too late to catch Burns at home. The umpires ruled that his interference retired the base runner and the score was lost.

FUNERAL OF GEN. DRAPER.

The Louisiana Press-Journal of Louisiana, Mo., contains an account of the funeral of the late Gen. Draper, whose remains were brou that city, the casket wrapped in the folds of the national flag he fought to defend.

Gen. Draper enlisted in the six months' service and then with another man raised a cavalry company which afterward formed a part of the Ninth Missouri M. S. M., commanded by Col. Guitar. Captain Draper rose to the rank or brigadier general and remained in the ser until the close of the war.

At the close of the war he went to Denver, Colo., and was twice elected state auditor and for thirty years was treasurer of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad and a man highly honored and respected.

James S. Merrill is spending a few days at Patterson Bay fishing. He has as his guests Mr. Blaine of Champaign and County Clerk Dawson of Jerseyville.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Some years ago there was a flourishing camp of Sons of Veterans in this city but it was permitted to disband or die a natural death. This has been a source of regret to many and now there is talk of an attempt to revive the order. Herbert Hickox who was a valued officer of the organization is talking up the matter and says he has a large number of names of eligible gentlemen who he thinks would join the order if an attempt were made to revive it.

JUSTICE COURTS.

Fred Griswold, colored, was caught in the police department dragnet Tuesday on the charge of drunkenness. Since Chief of Police Davis started out several days ago to try to rid the city of individuals who are addicted to chronic drunkenness several have been arrested and sentenced to jail for fifteen days. Griswold was taken before Justice Dyer and suffered the same fate, and is now boarding with Sheriff Graff.

Harry Wells whose trial was set for 2 o'clock in Justice Dyer's court on Wednesday afternoon on the charge of using abusive language, went into court Wednesday morning and pleaded guilty and was assessed $3. and costs.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

UNCERTAINTY REGARDING FOREIGN RELATIONS DEPRESS WHEAT PRICE

Market Closes Heavy at a Net Decline—Other Speculative Articles Show Losses.

Chicago, June 2.—Uncertainty in regard to foreign relations acted today as a weight on the price of wheat. The market closed heavy at 2¾c to 3¾c under last night. Other speculative articles too, showed a net decline—corn 1¾c to 1½@1⅝c, oats ¾c@1¼c to c⅝ and provisions 2½c to 5@7½c.

Attention to diplomatic contingencies had a depressing effect that was most noticeable in wheat during the last half of the session by that time many stoploss orders were being encountered and purchasing power seemed to have shrunk to a notable extent. Bearish sentiment was emphasized owing to word that a break in the price of flour at Minneapolis had brought about only a slight enlargement of business.

The fact that European demand for wheat seemed to have nearly vanished, unless at a sharp setback in values counted also against the bulls.

Prospect of unwelcome rain over much of the domestic belt led to a brief rally in the wheat market a short time after the opening. The general auspicious outlook for the crop, however, with lower quotations from Liverpool tended later to operate as more than a full offset. Cheap Argentine offerings at New York made dealers in corn forget fears that wet weather might delay replanting and interfere with shipments from first hands.

The pronounced weakness of wheat, although ignored at first downgrade with other cereals. Crop side of lower prices. Oats went was later a decided element on the conditions for oats were said to be ideal.

ENTIRE LIST OF STOCKS ADVANCES SMARTLY ON INCREASING VOLUME

Wall Street's Attention is Quite Evenly Divided Between This Country's Relations With Germany and Mexico.

New York, June 2.—Wall street's attention was quite evenly divided today between this country's relations with Germany and Mexico. The audience granted by President Wilson to the German ambassador and the emphatic declaration to Mexico's warring leaders were almost the only definite developments of an otherwise uneventful session. The financial community was clearly inclined to regard the visit of the German ambassador to the white house as a factor of favorable import.

The entire list including the international group advanced smartly during the morning on a volume of business far in excess of the preceding day.

War shares and other specialties as well as coppers participated in the rise, which caused much of its enthusiasm later.

Total sales of stocks amounted to 390,000 shares.

Cables stating that the Bank of England had released $1,375,000 of its gold and had sold $10,000,000 of its foreign gold coin countless accounted for the steadiness of local exchange on London by the record for francs was again lowered. remittances on Paris being quoted at 5.45 against the previous quotation of 5.43.

If the Germans keep on sinking warships in the Dardanelles the junk wil soon block the channel.

The utility commission knocked out the jitney bus. They have left us the name, however, and that is something.

Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown. Likewise the head of the office holder who has not been reappointed.

Cobb was there with the club. He got two safeties and stole two bases. Wahoo Sam Crawford got a double and a triple.

It is to be hoped that now we are getting our weather made in Chicago that it will be better than that of the last few weeks.

Villa says that he doesn't want the United States to butt into the Mexican situation. It is a safe bet that if she does that Villa will be the first one to get hit.

A man killed another in Cleveland over 3 cents worth of bologna. Perhaps the some result would have been accomplished if the man had been allowed to eat the bologna.

It is said that the bill providing for trains of fifty cars in length has been sidetracked. It is a good thing, for with trains only fifty cars long the man waiting for one to pass a crossing would have nothing to swear about.

A White Sox fan married a Cuban in Chicago and now they want to be divorced. They should both agree to see only the Whales play. Then they would both be mutually miserable.

Baird, who is making good in the outfield for Pittsburgh, was bought from Springfield in the Three Eye league two years ago. He was playing third base, but has developed into a good outfielder and is hitting the ball.

The senate passed the boxing bill Wednesday by a vote of 28 to 15. The bill was passed with an amendment which makes it necessary for municipalities to submit the proposition to a vote to legalize boxing. Few towns will have boxing with this law.

A Detroit man hit his wife between the eyes because Ty Cobb struck out with a runner on base. No telling what he would have done if the bases had been loaded.

Detroit put one into the Sox yesterday to the tune of 3 to 1. The Tigers nicked Benz and Russell for twelve safeties.

It sounds funny to hear some one say that Larry Doyle pulled a bonehead play. Larry is considered one of the smartest players in the game. In the game with the Braves yesterday he pulled a play that lost the game. He hit a long fly to the outfield that scored Burns from third base and then intercepted the throw home. The umpire called Burns out. The game then ended in a tie, being called on account of darkness, with the score 5 to 5.

The expected has happened. Hy Jasper whom it was reported had jumped to the Chicago Federals is pitching for Carlinville. The other day Hy worked against Wabada team of St. Louis and held them to one hit and struck out nineteen men in twelve innings. He lost the game, however, by a score of 2 to 1. If Hy keeps up his clip he will take the place of the late lamented "Rube" Waddell. The only difference is that Rube quit the team to go fishing while Hy quits to get some of the famous St. Louis brew. One would think he could get plenty in other towns but Jasper seems to have a liking for the brew of his home town.

MISS ALICE FARRELL WADSWORTH WEDS DR. ALPHA APPLEBEE

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING TOOK PLACE AT GRACE CHURCH.

Ring Ceremony Used in Plighting Troth, Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth, Uncle of Bride, Officiating — Reception Held at Home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree.

The marriage of Miss Alice Farrell Wadsworth and Dr. Alpha Bowers Applebee took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Grace Methodist church. The church was filled with friends of the young people and the full Episcopalian ring service was said by Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth of Providence, Rhode Island, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. J. W. Miller, pastor of Grace church. All the appointments were artistically made and the prominence of the families thus united made the nuptials brilliant.

The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The entire front from the altar to the choir loft was hidden beneath beautiful palms and ferns and on each side were large baskets of Easter lilies and gladioli.

At 7:30 o'clock the musical program began, with Prof. Henry V. Stearns, director of the College of Music of the Illinois Woman's college, at the organ. He played "Entree de Procession," from the wedding mass of Dubois, and "Epithlaminum" of Huntington-Woodman. Mrs. Helen Brown Read sang in a charming and artistic manner "Love's Coronation," by Aylward, and "Mavis," by Harold Craxton.

The bridal party appeared from the south entrance of the church as the first notes of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" were sounded. The first to enter were Mr Warren Nixon of St. Louis and Mr. Earl Epler. They were followed by Dr. A. R. Gregory and Mr. Marcy Osborne.

The next to enter were the bridesmaids, Miss Nelle Yates Taylor of New Berlin and Miss Ruth Mildred Applebee of Cuba, Ill., a sister of the groom. They wore gowns of white silk net, corded with white taffeta, with coats of silver lace. They carried bunches of asparagus ferns tied with bows of white gauze ribbon.

Miss Mary Jane Wadsworth, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the next to appear. She wore a gown of pale green jeusha cloth, with bodice of yellow taffeta lace. She carried a bunch of asparagus ferns tied with gauzy bows of white tulle.

Master Leonard Farrell Crabtree carried the ring in a beautiful white rose.

The bride entered last with her uncle, Mr. E. E. Crabtree. She wore a rich gown of ivory satin, with pearl trimmed bodice and overdrapes of tulle hung with orange blossoms; court train en cascade. The full length veil of tulle was held by a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Felix E. Farrell acted as master of ceremonies.

Dr. Alpha Applebee, attended by his best man, Mr. Cleon Bell ,entered from the east side of the church and met his bride at the altar. The ceremony was impressively performed by Dr. Wadsworth and Dr. J. W. Miller offered a closing prayer for the happiness of the bride and groom, while they knelt at the altar on a white satin pillow that had been used on a similar occasion by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Catherine Yates Pickering.

While the troth was being plighted Mr. Stearns played softly "The Evening Star," from Tannhauser. The recessional was made by the use of the east aisle, while the organist played the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The bride is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eugene Wadsworth, now deceased, and was born and reared in Jacksonville. She is a graduate of the Illinois Woman's college and of Wellesley college. Since the death of her parents she has made her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree. She is a young woman of many accomplishments, high ideals, and worthy of all the good wishes her many friends may bestow upon her.

The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Applebee of Cuba, Ill. He is a graduate of Northwestern Dental school, with the class of 1912. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta fraternity. Although he has been a resident of Jacksonville but two years, he has won a place of trust and honor among its citizens and is accounted a young man of strong character and ability.

The Reception.

The reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, 605 West State street. Those in the receiving line were Mr and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, Dr. and Mrs. Alpha B. Applebee, Dr and Mrs. J. O. Applebee, Mrs. Catharine Applebee, grandmother of the groom, and Dr. Julian Wadsworth.

Mrs. E. E. Crabtree wore a gown of champagne embroidered penya cloth; Mrs. E. A. Nixon, an aunt of the bride, a gown of fillet lace over lavender; Mrs. Felix Farrell, a pink tissue gown with brocaded velvet border made with lace and pink rose buds. She also wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley; Dorothy Farrell, a russet organdie dress made with a fissue, trimmed in blue rose buds; Mrs. F. J. Waddell, a gown of white embroidered net; Mrs. J. Fletcher Farrell, a gown of white embroidered net; Mrs. Nelson N. Lampert, a gown of light grey silk, embroidered in silver; Mrs. Nelson Greene, a gown of white embroidered net trimmed with baby Irish embroidery. she had a corsage bouquet of ward roses; Mrs. Jones Greene, a gown of embroidered net trimmed with light blue and wore a corsage bouquet of ward roses and sweet peas; Mrs. J. O. Applebee, a gown of ecrue charmeuse; Mrs. Catharine Applebee, black silk gown; Mrs. J. L. Simmons, a gown of white chiffon; Miss Dorothy Yates, a gown of pink chiffon over satin.

Beautiful and fragrant roses were used in the decorations of the Crabtree home and the porch was screened with freshly cut branches. Two dining rooms were attractively decorated with baskets of bride's roses and the baskets were tied with pretty bows of white tulle. Smilax and tulle were also used about the chandeliers and tables. The ice cream was moulded in the shape of bride's roses on mature rose stems and the bon-bons were rose shape. On the buffet was the bride's cake and it was cut with the knife, given by Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth. the young people receiving the various favors.

When the bride threw her bouquet which was made in six parts, Miss Dorothy Yates caught the part which contained the ring.

Dr. and Mrs. Applebee left in their automobile for Chicago and other points in the north and they expect to return to Jacksonville about the 20th of June. They will be at the Crabtree residence, 605 West State street, until their new home is completed at 1188 Turner Place.

Out of Town Guests.

Among the out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Applebee, Mrs. Catharine Applebee of Cuba, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Nelson N. Lampert, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher Farrell, Chicago; Mrs. Nelson Greene, Moline; Mrs. Jones Greene, Tallula; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yates and daughter, Miss Dorothy Yates, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nixon and Warren Nixon of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Simmons, Canton; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lynd, John Lynd and Miss Jeanette Lynd of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beggs, Mr. Frank Beggs of Ashland; John Beggs, St. Louis; Misses Marguerite and Gladys Aley, Tallula; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simons of Virden; Mr. Jack Carter, Canton.

NEW CEMETERY IS PLANNED BY MURRAYVILLE PEOPLE

Business Men Have Started Movement Which It is Believed Will Result Successfully.

At a recent meeting of Murrayville Business Men's association the question was brought up, as a matter in which the Association might well take an interest. It was the consensus of opinion of those present that the subject was one of pressing importance, and that the association, with its usual willingness and avowed object of promoting the general welfare of the community should start and forward a movement, looking to the establishment of a cemetery.

With this in view, a committee, consisting of J. H. Dial, J. E. Thomson and W. B. Wright, was appointed, to take up the matter in a public way and ascertain what the sentiment is on the question, and to what extent the people would be willing to encourage the move. The committee was also directed to report the proper and most desirable procedure looking to the acquirement, laying out and management of such a cemetery, and any other information which might be helpful.

With these instructions in mind the committee is proceeding along the lines indicated, and while they have not received all the encouragement such an important matter should entitle them to receive, the interest manifested is very encouraging.

Since some forty responsible citizens have pledged financial support, we can say to the public that the proposition seems in a fair way to be carried through, and Murrayville at no great distant day should have what it needs and must have, a beautiful, well managed and permanent spot in which to lay our lost ones.

While in almost every instance the committee has met encouraging words and it is the universal verdict that the move is proper and necessary, the fact that many of our citizens have members of their families buried in other cemeteries, and have made arrangements for space in other places, is making it more difficult than it would be otherwise.

Therefore we take this means of impressing upon all who feel the need of the successful termination of this movement, and whom the committee may not have been able to interview, to realize the need of co-operation, and come forward and signify a willingness to help make it a certainty. Every one who has pledged his support, should consider it his privelege and duty to talk to friends and get their support in so necessary and commendable a project.

religious freedom and Agrarian and educational reforms.

Effect of Statement Varied.

The effect of the president's statement in Mexican quarters was varied. General Villa's representative promptly issued a statement saying the convention government had tried to put into effect the very ideas set forth by Mr. Wilson and was ready to co-operate at any time with opposing factions. The Carranza agency was silent, but it was predicted that General Carranza would endeavor to demonstrate by a quick campaign on Mexico City that he could dominate all other factions in a military way and ther factions in a military way and thereby command recognition of for thereby command recognition of foreign governments.

Representatives here of some of the thousands of exiled Mexicans who were driven from their country by the constitutionalists, expressed their approval of the president's plan, but doubted whether the Villa, Carranza and Zapata elements could reach an agreement. The possibility of another revolutionary movement to take under its standard the best elements in the Villa and Carranza ranks was widely discussed.

The Nicest Tooth Paste we Ever Saw

Nydenta Cream is the most edlightful and effective tooth cleanser and preservative you can possibly use.

Nydenta enters the crypts and crevices of the teeth—even where the bristles of the brush fail to go—prevents fermentation and inhibits the growth of disease germs upon the mucous membranes of the mouth.

Nydenta Cream is a prophylactic and preservative— it supplies the cleansing elements necessary to tooth preservation, elements that are found in the normal secretions of every mouth but always absent in the presence of decay.

It hardens the gums, protects, whitens, and polishes the enamel of the teeth—sweetens and perfumes the breath.

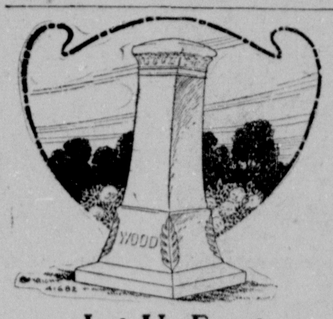

There is absolutely no waste to Nydenta—it is clean and economical.

TAKES TRIP TO ENGLAND WITH LOAD OF 1020 MULES

Wm. Reece of 585 North Pine street, took a trip to England on a transport and has just returned home. They sailed from New Orleans having on board 1020 mules to be used in the English army. Mr. Reece had charge of 20 mules. Aside from being seasick he enjoyed the trip very much despite the fact that there was a small amount of money in it. Going and coming 48 days were consumed. The boat landed on the southern coast of Ireland. They were within fifteen miles of the Lusitania when the ship sank and the captain of the transport caught the S. O. S. call but deemed it advisable not to go, on account of his cargo.

CONCERNING CARPETS.

August Slett was in the city yesterday calling on Andre & Andre with a line of carpets and rugs made by the house of M. J. Whittall of Worcester, Mass. Mr. Slett carries fourteen large trunks filled with samples and says he could use another yet if he had it. The establishment is owned by one man, a multi-millionaire who employs more than four thousand people and makes only high grade goods. Mr. Slett says his excess baggage is something great and when he travels on interurban lines he generally has to have his trunks sent in two relays.

WENT TO GIRARD.

Joseph DeGoveia took a force of men to Girard Wednesday morning to begin the building of a hay barn on the farm of Dr. A. C. Kingsley near that city. The frame was built here and shipped to Girard. Mr. DeGoveia took with him the following carpenters: Joseph Fernandes, Oscar Meline, Edward Stevenson and Gus Oliver. Dr. Kingsley accompanied the party and he and Mr. DeGoveia returned home Wednesday evening.

EPIDEMIC OF SCARLET FEVER.

William A. Allcott who is teaching manual training in the Joliet high school is home for a few days visiting his parents. Mr. Allcott is taking a forced vacation on account of an epidemic of scarlet fever which is raging in Joliet. All the schools are closed and children under sixteen are forbidden to attend church or moving picture shows.

WOMAN SURELY CURED OF DRUG HABIT

Big Supply of Morphine Turned Over to Police Department.

Wednesday the son of a woman who has recently taken the drug cure at Jacksonville State hospital, brought to the office of Chief of Police Davis eleven bottles of morphine sulphate. Each bottle contained 60 grains. The woman who was addicted to the drug cure, bought this from a local druggist before the federal drug act went in-effect some time in February. The treatment at the hospital entirely cured her and she insisted that the drug be destroyed.

It is the intention of Chief Davis to turn the drug over to the federal authorities but there will be no attempt at prosecution as there was no violation of the law at the time the drug was sold.

The curing of this woman, who probably was one of the most confirmed drug fiends in the community, pointed to the efficacy of the course of treatment now being carried on by Dr. Foley at the State hospital. It demonstrates that one addicted to the drug habit can be cured if there is a sincere desire for the cure.

A CHICKEN THIEF PROBABLY APPREHENDED.

A few nights ago Silas Timberlake, an industrious colored man living at 904 Cox street, had the misfortune to lose some valuable chickens and since that time has been a bit watchful. Tuesday night he went out about ten o'clock and unfortunately left his shotgun in the house. As it was dark he could not see very well but suddenly he came on a fellow who crouched down hoping to escape observation but failed. Mr. Timberlake accosted him and the fellow said he was on his way to the little church in that vicinity and was waiting for a girl who was to meet him. He was allowed to proceed but it will be wise for him and his kind to give the Timberlake residence a wide breth hereafter.

LOST AT ASHLAND.

At Ashland Wednesday the Eagles were defeated by the Ashland team by a score of 3 to 2. The game was well payed by both teams. White was on the mound for the Eages and Tadlock pitched for Ashland. White only yielded six hits, while the Eagles made eleven. However, they hit into two double plays which lost chances to score.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

At the regular meeting of Hospitaller commandery No. 31 Knights Templar Tuesday evening the following officers were elected:

Commander—Truman P. Carter.
Generalissimo—H. D. Atkins.
Captain general—P. V. Coover.
Senior warden—Alex Rabiohns.
Junior warden—J. W. Boyd.
Prelate—Julius G. Strawn.
Treasurer—Frank J. Kitner.
Recorder—John R. Phillips.
Trustees—T. P. Carter, H. D. Atkins, P. V. Coover, J. S. Hackett and E. L. Crouch.

JUST WHY.

"Are you going to vote for the suffrage amendment?" said the professor. He was a teacher of psychology.

"No," said the judge. "Women havn't got enough sense. They don't know anything about politics."

"That proves that they have sense, doesn't it?" said the professor.

"Why?"

"Wouldn't they be fools if they all took the trouble to learn about something they can't do anything about? What did you study law for?"

"In order to practice it," admitted the judge.

"I guess women will study politics when they can practice it. At least they are to be congratulated upon not having studied it when they couldn't."—The Masses.

PROGRAM OF INTEREST IS PLANNED FOR CHICAGO SUFFRAGE MEETING

Jacksonville Women Have Received Invitation to Attend Conference June 6 to 9—Mrs. Medill McCormick in Charge.

Preparations are almost complete for the conference of the National Woman's Suffrage association, to be held next week in Chicago, under direction of Mrs. Medill McCormick. Invitation has been sent Jacksonville suffragists for the sessions Sunday and Wednesday, June 6 and 9, and it is probable that a few local women will attend. The headquarters are in the Conway building, corner of Clark and Washington streets.

Replies to the official call have already come from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado, Nevada, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Onio, Illinois and the District of Columbia.

The program as at present outlined calls for registration Sunday night; Monday, 9 a. m., addresses, "By What Procedure Shall We Gain National Enfranchisement?" by Dr. Anna H. Shaw and Miss Alce Stone Blackwell; "The National Work at Washington," report from the national congressional committee, by Mrs. Medill McCormick, "Work in the Congressional Districts," reports by state presidents and state congressional chairmen.

Two p. m., "The Interrelation of State and Congressional District Work," discussion by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton; problems for general discussion: (1) The anti-democratic policy of the Congressional Union. (2) Conflicting lobby policies at Washington; the two federal amendments.

Tuesday, June 8—9:30 a. m. "Methods of Campaign in Congressional Districts." General Discussion. The moving picture play, "Your Girl and Mine," "Publicity methods," discussion conducted by Mr. Chas. T. Hallinan, Chairman National Publicity Bureau. Three p. m.—Getting suffrage planks in the national platforms of the two great political parties. Resoutions of the conference.

The Conference headquarters will be the LaSalle Hotel, where, through the hospitality of the Chicago Equal Suffrage Association, the delegates will also be entertained. The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association will give a luncheon in honor of Dr. Shaw and the other national officers; the Chicago Equal Suffrage Association will give a dinner in honor of the campaign. State presidents and Mrs Medill McCormick will also entertain the delegates at luncheon.

THE FIRST WARD PLAYGROUND.

The first ward playground has been opened and W. H. Hogue is in charge and is getting the weeds and grass properly cut and the various apparatus in shape and it is hoped that the place this year will be a good thing for the locality in which it is placed. It is the earnest desire of the park board to have the place properly conducted so that it will be a blessing.

The strict orders to Mr. Hogue are to preserve order at all times; make the grounds pleasant and attractive to every one, old and young; see to it that the large ones do not at any time impose on the smaller and the moment that any one acts improperly and fails to behave when admonished run him in and make an example of him. At all times discretion and moderation are to be exercised but at the same time order is to be preserved and the neighbors not annoyed.

GREAT TIME PLANNED BY PHI ALPHA MEMBERS

Student and alumni members of Phi Alpha Literary society plan to gather Tuesday night at a love feast much beyond the ordinary in point of importance. Extensive improvements have been completed during the past year at Beecher hall and the society rooms are now among the most attractive places on the campus of Illinois college. Ray H. Bracewell, president of the society, and Walter H. Heath, the secretary, have each heard from a number of alumni members who will attend. Among those who expect to come are George H. Govert of Quincy, E. D. Jackson of Chicago, E. B. Hamilton of Peoria, R. A. Campbell of Bowling Green, Mo., Judge Carl E. Epler of Quincy, Reuben Cohn of Chicago, Roscoe Linder of Chandlerville, Robert Butcher of Gulfport, Miss., and Harris Robertson of Petersburg. Victor W. Nelson of Chicago will be toastmaster at this banquet which will be served at 6:30 o'clock in Phi Alpha hall.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Grace church will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. Joseph Capps, 823 N. Church street. Hostesses, Mrs. Herbert Capps, Miss Stout and Miss Mount.

REMOVED STACK.

Ben Cohen removed twenty-six feet of the large iron smoke stack at the C. P. & St. L. shops yesterday morning. The job was a difficult one but Mr. Cohen understands that kind of work thoroughly and did it without a hitch.

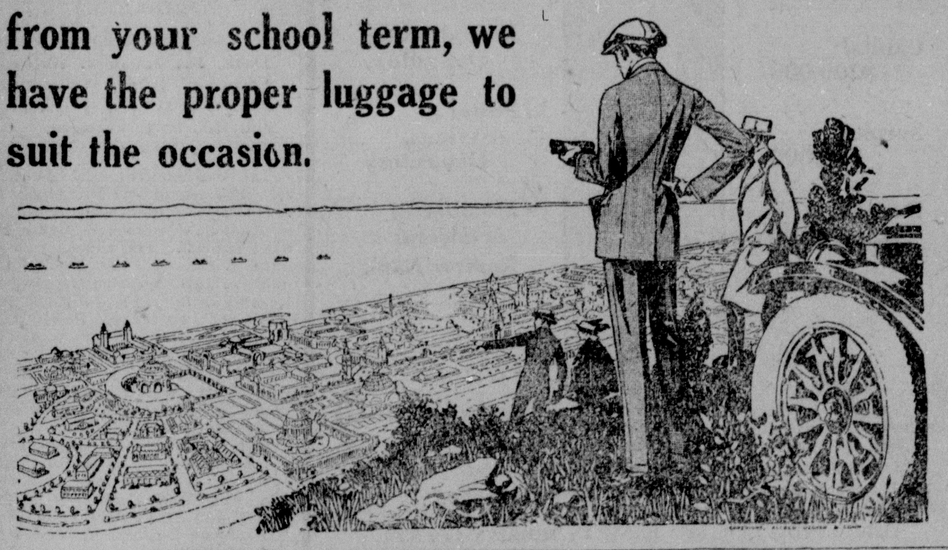

ARE CONDUCTING AUDIT.

C. H. Hubbel and J. J. Nolan representatives of the state utilities commission, are engaged in auditing the books of the Jacksonville Railway and Light Co. They expect to be in Jacksonville most of the week.
